

Faculty Development Programme

19-25 August, 2023

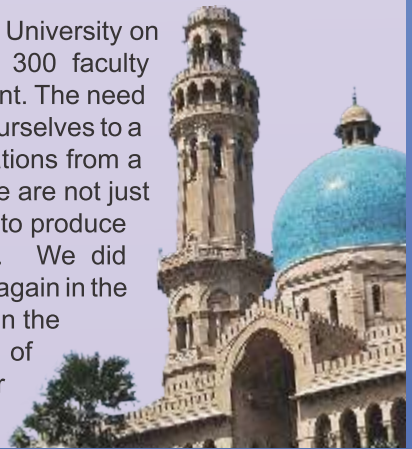

University of Allahabad

The University

University of Allahabad is the fourth oldest university of the country and has a glorious history of contribution to the national life. Located in the holy city of Prayag, where the Ganga and Yamuna meet, the university is the silent stream of the Saraswati, the holy stream of knowledge. The university was established on 23rd September 1887. Since then, while the alumni have made a mark as administrators, statesmen, diplomats, jurists, lawyers, journalists, writers, musicians, artists, the teachers too have been renowned scientists, academicians, philosophers, historians, economists, writers and musicians. The teachers of the University have won recognition and accolades not just in their respective core field but have gone on to win some of the top national honours. The lush grounds and elegant structures dot the four campuses with the architectural marvel of the Vizianagaram Complex adorning like a crown.

The University was given the status of Central University on 11 July 2005. With the induction of more than 300 faculty members, the ethos has reached a watershed moment. The need of the day is not just to reclaim the glory, but to adapt ourselves to a world of research and academics where the expectations from a higher education institution are rapidly changing. We are not just educationists, but are also bearing the responsibility to produce think-tank of nation-builders in every walk of life. We did ourselves proud in the past and are gearing up to do it again in the decades to come. For this we need to move ahead in the right direction with a comprehensive understanding of the demands of the present-day world of higher education.

The Programme

The Faculty Development Programme has been tailor-made to the requirements of the faculty of the University of Allahabad. In course of the seven-day schedule, the programme will cover a lot of diverse subject with a direct relevance to the day to life as teachers in the University of Allahabad. It will introduce the participants into the annals of history to understand the culture, the foundations and the values which define us, and give us a unique identity. It will also help the faculty understand what is expected of them as academicians and researchers. The FDP has an important component for teachers in terms of research work where experienced resource persons will guide them on the sources for funding projects and how to fulfil the requirements of a viable project proposal.
